

BEFORE THE COMMISSIONER OF POLITICAL PRACTICES OF THE STATE OF MONTANA

Ward v. Western Tradition Partnership, now named American Tradition Partnership No. COPP-2010-CFP-022	Summary of Facts and Finding of Sufficient Evidence to Show a Violation of Montana's Campaign Practices Act Campaign Violation Findings Also Include Findings Against Direct Mail, Christian LeFer, Allison LeFer, Montana Citizens for Right to Work and Taxpayers for Liberty
---	---

Mike Miller of Helmville was a candidate for the Montana House of Representatives, House District 84, (HD 84) in the 2010 Republican primary election. In June of 2010 John Ward of Helena filed a complaint with this Office against Assembly Action Fund (Ward v. Assembly Action Fund, No. COPP-2010-CFP-006) asserting impropriety in its use of attack flyers in the 2010 HD 84 Republican primary election. On November 12, 2013 the earlier Ward complaint was extended by new complaints filed against Candidate Miller and Western Tradition Partnership, with the new complaints including review of coordination and corporate contribution issues. The new complaints referenced and incorporated the issues identified by the Commissioner's Decision in Bonogofsky v. Kennedy, COPP 2010-CFP-15. The Decision in this matter is released simultaneously with the Decision in Ward v. Miller, COPP-2010-CFP-021.

I. INTRODUCTION

The 2010 HD 84 primary election involved two candidates, Mike Miller and Joe Dooling. Candidate Miller defeated Candidate Dooling in the June 8, 2010 primary election by a vote of 972 to 479. Candidate Miller went on to win the general election and became a representative to the 2010 Montana legislature from HD 84.¹ (SOS website).

Ward filed a post-election complaint against Western Tradition Partnership (WTP) because he believed that WTP made unreported and undisclosed 2010 HD 84 election expenditures. Ward complained that the WTP election expenditures were coordinated with Candidate Miller such that they became contributions to Candidate Miller's campaign.

An election expense such as those addressed in this Decision falls into one of three types. The first type is that of a candidate election expense. A candidate election expense includes money spent in an election that is contributed to and expended by a candidate. Candidate election expenses are, of course, subject to prohibitions and contribution limits and they must be attributed, disclosed and reported by the candidate. A candidate election expense includes a third party election expense coordinated with a candidate, as a coordinated expense is deemed to be an in-kind contribution to a candidate.

¹ House District 84, as created by the 2000 redistricting commission, is a solid Republican district. The electoral contest of note is the Republican primary. In 2008 Candidate Miller defeated then incumbent John Ward in the Republican primary by a vote of 645 to 620. (Data from Secretary of State's website).

The companion Ward v. Miller Decision determined that the WTP expenses are election expenses. The Decision has further determined that the WTP expenses are an in-kind contribution to Candidate Miller, through coordination.

The Ward v. Miller Decision means the WTP election expenses do not fall into one of the remaining two types of election expense; that is, the WTP expenses are neither an independent expenditure nor an issue advocacy expenditure. An independent expenditure is that of a third party entity independent of a candidate, but focused on a candidate in the election. Any "independent expenditure" must be disclosed, reported, and attributed, albeit by the third party rather than the candidate. An independent expenditure, however, is not attributed as a contribution to a candidate and therefore it is not subject to contribution limits or to reporting by a candidate.

The third type of election expense is that made coincident to the election by a third party entity independent of a candidate, but with the use of the money focused on an issue and not on a candidate. This election expense is called issue advocacy. This "issue advocacy" expense is not considered to be a candidate related expense and therefore is not subject to campaign practice requirements. Specifically, Montana law does not require that an issue advocacy expense be attributed, reported or disclosed.²

II. SUBSTANTIVE ISSUES ADDRESSED

The substantive areas of campaign finance law addressed by this decision are: 1) Coordination; and 2) Illegal Corporation Contributions.

III. DISCUSSION

This Decision does not repeat, but incorporates and relies on, the determinations and reasoning set out in Ward v. Miller, COPP-2010-CFP-021. The Ward v. Miller Decision determined that certain election expenses made by or orchestrated by WTP were coordinated with Candidate Miller such they became in-kind election contributions to Candidate Miller.

The basis for a finding of coordination, as explained by Ward v. Miller, is that Candidate Miller and WTP acted together such that in-kind election expenses made by WTP became in-kind election contributions to Candidate Miller. Ward v. Miller identified the following 2010 HD 84 coordinated election expense as made by, or under the direction of, WTP:

1. "8 Letters" printed by Direct Mail and signed by Candidate Miller or his wife.
2. "2 attack Slicks" - one attributed by Assembly Action Fund and attributed by Taxpayers for Liberty.

² The 2012 Montana Legislative session considered several bills that would have required reporting and reporting and disclosure of any election expense, including issue advocacy, made within 60 days of the date of an election. None of these bills passed into law. A 2014 ballot initiative has been proposed to address this issue.

3. "2 attack letters" – one attributed by WTP and one attributed by Montana Citizens for Right to Work.

Coordination is a two way street. Ward v. Miller found sufficient evidence that Candidate Miller coordinated illegal WTP corporate election expenses as an in-kind contribution to his campaign. This companion Decision finds sufficient evidence that WTP, as the other part of the coordinated expense, made illegal coordinated corporate election expenses on behalf of Candidate Miller.

IV. FINDINGS

The Commissioner incorporates the Ward v. Miller findings as to WTP election expenses in the 2010 Montana HD 84 election. These findings include a finding of WTP election expenses and WTP coordinated election expenses. In addition, Ward v. Miller found that WTP and Direct Mail and Communications, Inc. were Colorado corporations. Further, Ward v. Miller found that the actions of other third parties, including the Allison LeFer, Christian LeFer, Assembly Action Fund, Direct Mail, Montana Citizens for Right to Work and Taxpayers for Liberty, were the actions of WTP.

In this Matter the Commissioner further finds that WTP filed articles of amendment with the Colorado Secretary of State in December of 2010 changing the name of the corporate entity to American Tradition Partnership. (Commissioner's Records). This Decision and any enforcement of this Decision will be taken against American Tradition Partnership and/or Western Tradition Partnership.

V. SUMMARY OF CAMPAIGN PRACTICE VIOLATIONS

The Commissioner finds there is sufficient evidence to show that WTP violated Montana's campaign practice laws, including but not limited to § 13-35-227(1) MCA. Section 13-35-227 MCA prohibits corporate contributions to any Montana candidate for public office. The Ward v. Miller Decision found sufficient evidence to show that Candidate Miller violated §13-35-227(2) MCA, the subsection of law that prohibits a candidate from accepting a corporate contribution. In this Decision the Commissioner finds sufficient evidence to show that WTP violated subsection one, the prohibition on a corporation making such an election contribution.

Because WTP's election contribution to a candidate was prohibited in any amount, WTP could not cure the contribution by attribution, registration, reporting or disclosure. Section 13-35-227 MCA is enforced under the civil provisions of Chapter 37, specifically §13-37-128 MCA. See §13-35-227(4) MCA. Past Commissioners have extended sufficiency Decisions to cover individuals and entities who/that, while not named in a COPP complaint, are included in sufficiency findings. See Motl v. Yes, Decided 6-29-09 (Commissioner Unsworth) extending sufficiency findings in a Decision to individuals and corporate entities who/that were not named in the COPP complaint.

The Commissioner finds that sufficient evidence exists to show that Direct Mail, Christian LeFer, Allison LeFer, Montana Citizens for Right to Work and Taxpayers for Liberty are responsible for or involved in some of the WTP corporate expenses and therefore sufficient evidence exists to show that each also has violated Montana's Campaign Practices Act.

VI. ENFORCEMENT OF SUFFICIENCY FINDINGS

The Commissioner has limited discretion when making the determination as to an unlawful campaign practice. First, the Commissioner cannot avoid, but must make, a decision as the law mandates that the Commissioner ("shall investigate," See, §13-37-111(2)(a) MCA) investigate any alleged violation of campaign practices law. The mandate to investigate is followed by a mandate to take action as the law requires that if there is "sufficient evidence" of a violation the Commissioner must ("shall notify", See §13-37-124 MCA) initiate consideration for adjudication.

Second, having been charged to make a decision, the Commissioner must follow substantive law applicable to a particular campaign practice decision. This Commissioner, having been charged to investigate and decide, hereby determines that there is sufficient evidence, as set out in this Decision, to show that WTP *et. al.*³ have, as a matter of law, violated Montana's campaign practice laws, including but not limited to §13-35-227 MCA. Having determined that sufficient evidence of a campaign practice violation exists, the next step is to determine whether there are circumstances or explanations that may affect adjudication of the violation and/or the amount of the fine.

The many decisions to act or to not act made by WTP, et. al. in this matter were choices. Excusable neglect cannot be applied to such choices. See discussion of excusable neglect principles in Matters of Vincent, Nos. CPP-2013-CFP-006 and 009. Montana has determined that political discourse is more fairly advanced when election funding is kept fair and, through disclosure, the public is informed as to the identity of those who seek to influence elections. There can be no excuse, but only punishment and for an illegal contribution such as are involved in this matter.

³ Et. al means Direct Mail, Christian LeFer, Allison LeFer, Montana Citizens for Right to Work and Taxpayers for Liberty. Assembly Action Fund is the subject of a separate complaint.

Likewise, the amounts of money are too significant to be excused as de minimis. See discussion of de minimis principles in Matters of Vincent, Nos. CPP-2013-CFP-006 and 009. With the above analysis in mind, this Matter is also not appropriate for application of the de minimis theory.

Because there is a finding of sufficient showing of violation and a determination that de minimis and excusable neglect theories are not applicable, civil adjudication and/or a civil fine is justified, §13-37-124 MCA. This Commissioner hereby, through this decision, issues a “sufficient evidence” Finding and Decision justifying civil adjudication under §13-37-124 MCA. This matter will now be submitted to (or “noticed to”)⁴ the Lewis and Clark County attorney for his review for appropriate civil action, §13-37-124(1) MCA. Should the County Attorney waive the right to adjudicate (§13-37-124(2) MCA) or fail to adjudicate within 30 days (§13-37-124(1) MCA) this Matter returns to this Commissioner for possible adjudication. Id.

⁴ Notification is to “...the county attorney in which the alleged violation occurred...” §13-37-124(1) MCA. The failures to report, to produce corporate records and the misrepresentation of acceptance of illegal corporate contributions occurred in Lewis and Clark County.

Most of the Matters decided by a Commissioner and referred to the County Attorney are waived back to the Commissioner for his further consideration. Assuming that this Matter is waived back, the Finding and Decision in this Matter does not necessarily lead to civil adjudication as the Commissioner has discretion ("may then initiate" see §13-37-124(1) MCA) in regard to a legal action. Instead, most of the Matters decided by a Commissioner are resolved by payment of a negotiated fine. In the event that a fine is not negotiated and the Matter resolved, the Commissioner retains statutory authority to bring a complaint in district court against any person who intentionally or negligently violates any requirement of Chapter 37, including those of §13-37-226. (see § 13-37-128 MCA). Full due process is provided to the alleged violator because the district court will consider the matter de novo.

The possibility of settlement having been raised it is noted that campaign practice violations, of the nature and scope encountered in this Matter, are new to the modern era Montana politics.⁵ Montana's second Commissioner, Peg Krivec, served her entire 6 year term (1981-1986) without issuing a Decision. Subsequent Commissioners Colberg, Vaughey, and Argenbright issued decisions that generally provided a platform for earnest political participants to pay a fine for the infraction and adjust future election activity to conform with the rulings.

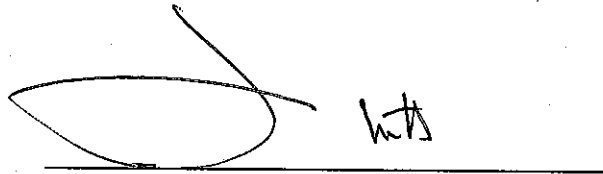

⁵ These sorts of violations in Montana's past, gave rise to many of Montana's current campaign practice laws.

The depth and breadth of current challenges to Montana's election culture are shown by this and the companion Decisions. These Decisions show that the Commissioner determined that WTP, to date, has been unwilling to accept or adjust to Montana's expectations of appropriate election behavior. Instead, WTP has aggressively pursued a self-determined approach to involvement in Montana elections.

VII. CONCLUSION

Based on the preceding discussion, as Commissioner, I find and decide that there is sufficient evidence to show that WTP et. al. violated Montana's campaign practices laws. This matter is hereby submitted to (or "noticed to") the Lewis and Clark County Attorney for his review for appropriate civil action.

Dated this 18th day of December, 2013.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'J. Motl', is written over a horizontal line. The signature is stylized and somewhat abstract.

Jonathan R. Motl
Commissioner of Political Practices
Of the State of Montana
P.O. Box 202401
1205 8th Avenue
Helena, MT 59620
Phone: (406) 444-4622